

MASTERCLASS

MANAGING CHANGE

By joining like-minded professionals in an online classroom learning from Harley Lovegrove, author of The Change Manager's Handbook. You will be working closely with your fellow participants on challenging assignments in break-out rooms; gaining insights as you move along.

In addition to the online sessions, two full days of on site training will show you how to bring the change you want to see into your organisation.

Like the classroom masterclass, this online and on site course delivers proven, practical, ready to implement solutions for Managing Change in all kind of organisations, both large and small.

WHO IS THIS MASTERCLASS FOR?

This course is intended for senior management, employees, professional project managers & change managers, that will contribute to projects that result in significant end-user change. From projects that determine new ways of working to ones that transition an entire organisation to a new and very different culture.

A minimum of 5 years' professional experience is recommended to fully appreciate, and respond to, the level of interaction that is required within the group.

It is anticipated that you will have either some hands-on experience of projects and/or project management and planning, or at least a good understanding of the topic.

The course will be given in English and requires some preliminary reading and preparation.
